[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO SEPT 11.

Parisian News.

PARIS, Sept 11.—Trochu has given orders to level all works in sight of Paris on the enemy's approach.

The Citadel of Laon surrendered to save the city from destruction. The Prussians subsequently blew up the fortifications.

The Provisional government though assailed by red republicans and Orleanists succeeds admirably. The conduct of the people of Paris is in the highest degree orderly and praiseworthy.

Recognition of the New Republic

PARIS, Sept 11.—The eastern railway is still open to Nogent. The Prussians at Chatteau Thierry are advancing on Lafert and Juarre. The rolling stock of the road is withdrawn and the bridges and culverts destroyed. The Prussian scouts are reported at Villiers Vernueil, Chattillon Montmirail Vailly, Surtecane and Sera.

A large French army is forming in Normandy, which will be commanded by Gen Trochu in person, and operate on the German lines in case Paris is besieged.

The existence of an alliance between the United States, Austria and Italy looking to a termination of the war is mentioned.

Peace Negotiations

NEW YORK, Sept 11.—A Paris special last night says the prospects of peace are more favorable. Austria and Russia having consented to negotiate with Germany began by insisting on an armistice. The Envoys of Russia and Austria are authorized in the name of all neutral Powers to protest against any dismemberment of France, and if intervention secures a suspension of hostilities an attempt will at once be made to adjust terms of peace. Bismarck and Von Beust are in active negotiation but Bismarck insists as preliminary to arrangements that three Prussian army corps shall be encamped within twenty miles of Paris as satisfaction to the public opinion of Germany.

Great indignation is felt at Paris in consequence of the refusal of Earl Granville to aid in peace negotiations. His course is inspired by the Queen, who wishes to make the Republic impossible.

Swiss Intercession for Strasbourg.

Great Demonstration in London in Favor of the French Republic

LONDON, Sept 11.—Two formidable demonstrations took place here to day in favor of the French Republic and against monarchy at home and abroad. At the meeting in Hyde Park Prof Berby made a speech vigorously denouncing the imbecility of the British Government and charging it upon the Queen by name that she was encouraging the King of Prussia to march on Paris for the purpose of destroying the new born French Republic. The name of the Queen was received with a tempest of hisses. A voice in the crowd proposed three groans for the Prince of Wales. The response was universal and passionate.

At the meeting at St James strong resolutions were adopted denouncing the inconsistency of the Prussian advance on Paris. The feeling in this city against the Government, and the Royal Family is extremely bitter not only among the avowedly Democratic classes, but throughout the ranks of others.

The impression made by the Times and other papers of the same standing, that the foreign policy of the Government has been dictated by the personal prejudice of the Queen and the interests of her family has produced the most dangerous and general indignation.

LONDON, Sept 11—9 A M.—The Empress visited the Prince Imperial at Hastings on Thursday. She is ill.

Recognition of the New Republic.

PARIS, Sept 11.—Spain formally recognizes the new Republic. Belgium is expected to do so at once.

French Losses at Sedan.

RHEIMS, Sept 11.—By the official reports of the battle of Sedan it appears that 45 cannon were taken. The loss of the French in killed, wounded and prisoners is 140 000.

Spanish News.

MADRID, Sept 11.—The Government and Permanent Committee of Deputies have agreed to postpone the convocation of the Cortes. No date has been fixed.

1 100 reinforcements leave for Cuba on Monday and 1 000 more Saturday. The steamer S an Mader sailed with 500. These are the first installments of 10 000 promised.

Gen De Rodas has tendered his resignation. It is under consideration.

The Timber of the Northwest

Mr Wilkeson one of the writers who have visited the northwest in the interest of the Northern Pacific railroad company is very enthusiastic about the timber of this section. We quote:

Oh what timber! Out there the Atlantic ship ... where it was my misfortune to be born and where for fifty two years I have been cheated by circumstances out of a sight of the real America, there are no ... The ... of the Rocky Mountains trees are brush. They may do for brooms, pieces of ships are got out of them and splinters for houses. But the utmost throe of the Atlantic slope soil and climate could not in ages produce a continuous plank which would reach from stem to stern of a thousand ton clipper ship, ... anywhere and everywhere will give you for the cutting of you ... with an axe, trees that will be straight on the ground and cover two hundred and fifty feet of length and measure twenty five feet around above two ... heights from the ground (they are cut from stagings) and that will yield one hundred and fifty lineal feet of ... wood below the ... as ... whom all worship fully ... tably hit ... blows of steel or under the ... of fire is ... experience ... pang ... sorrow.

Of Puget Sound the writer says:

The waters of Puget Sound ... wonder and ... Its islands and ... are ... majesty. Its ... most ... loveliest thing on earth ... mountains skirt ... with green. In winter they ... and give to December January and February an autumnal mildness garlanded oft with flowers and softened with the breath of the tropics. ... of all the marvels and all the beauties and all the majesties of this region the ... of giant trees are chief.

Chief Justice Chase

The New York World of the 31st inst says:

The paralytic stroke fell on Chief Justice Chase several days ago at the country house of his son-in-law Senator Sprague at Narragansett Bay. He is unable to walk with assistance and his mind seems shattered and impaired. The health of Chief Justice Chase has been declining for several months. Gentlemen from this city whose business called them to the Supreme Court during its last session remarked to their friends on returning that they were struck with his changed appearance and too visible marks of premature old age. Those who visited him at his house noticed that he had lost his elastic tread and his old habit of ascending two stairs at a time. It is not generally known that a few weeks since the Chief Justice while passing through this city had a sudden attack of severe illness and was obliged to remain in his room at the hotel for several days unable to pursue his journey. That he should be attacked by paralysis surprises no one who knows with what assiduity he has applied himself to public affairs during the last decade.

In a heated controversy between a Presbyterian and Methodist the former quoted largely from the epistle to the Romans. "Ah," said the other, "Paul says so, I know, but then I always thought he leaned too much toward Calvanism."

CURRENT NOTES

Mrs Samuel Colt of Hartford has just purchased a villa site on the cliffs at Newport R I for $62 752—the largest price ever paid for a single lot there. The same lot sold twenty five years ago, for $800.

An Oakland (Cal) editor lately gave a disquisition upon mosquitoes and the Times man advises him, the next time one of the creatures swoops down upon his carcass to let the insect get well settled then flop his ear over on it and the stinging thing is dead.

Some idea of the magnitude of the work of taking the census may be gained from the fact that from twelve to fifteen hundred volumes of one thousand pages each will be required in which to enter the names of the individuals returned by the assistant marshals.

The largest transfer ever made at the Treasury Department of bonds belonging to one individual was to George Howard and others trustees of Sylvia Howland, of New Bedford. The amount was $700 000. The next largest is $500 000 in registered bonds, belonging to a Parisian gentleman.

An Ottawa dispatch of the 3d inst says: The military authorities are preparing an estimate of the cost of the several raids on Canada by Fenians. The calculation, it is understood, embrace the cost of calling out the volunteers moving them to the front, and the actual damage inflicted by Fenians. These will be presented for liquidation to the Imperial Government, who will make the same demand on the United States. Cool, indeed, for a Power which perpetrated the Alabama outrages to make a demand of this kind.

The following is from the Chicago Tribune report of the recent meeting of the Illinois editors association: Mrs Matilda Fletcher of the Iowa State Register then read an original poem. The audience regretted Mrs Griswold. The poem was of a mathematico-theologico-mythological historical nature giving brief sketches of Apollo, Xantippe, Eve the Serpent Adam the Sorosis, Kate and Pat O'Neil, the Penitent thief Socrates Napoleon the First Horace Greeley Queen Bess, Joan d Arc Margery Hale, and Gerald the child of thunder. Sincere applause followed the close of an hour of poetry.

POLITICAL NOTES

In the last election in Wyoming the Territory went largely Democratic. It now elects a Republican delegate to Congress.

Col Robert H. Cowan formerly of the rebel army is a prominent Democratic candidate for United States Senator from North Carolina, to succeed Senator Abbott.

The contest for the nomination for Sheriff of New York is lively. Police Commissioner Brennan Judge Shandley and Sheriff O'Brien are all equally confident of receiving it.

Yet another! Fenianism is at a discount in St Louis, and a new National organization to take its place has been set on foot there to be called "The Irish National Brotherhood" with headquarters at St Louis. Whether we are to look for any improvement in the management of Irish matters we do not yet know.

Notwithstanding the hopeless minority in Iowa the Democrats are quarrelling among themselves. The Ottumwa Copperhead, whose name expresses its politics, enters a savage protest against the action of the late State Convention as having favored what it calls the "new fashioned Democracy." The liberal young Democratic wing of the party triumphed for the first time and the old leaders accept the defeat with wry faces.

Canvassing for the next political campaign in New Hampshire has begun. The names most prominently mentioned for the Republican nomination for Governor are the Rev James Pike of Newmarket, Horton D Walker, of Portsmouth, S J Cole, of Guilford, and J D Lymap, of Exeter. The temperance men will make an effort to control the Republican nominations and dictate the platform and failing in that will probably nominate a ticket of their own.

WAR MISCELLANY

A Paris letter says: Wistful faces have changed for an expression of the deadliest hate and a rabid eagerness to grapple with the foe. The men feel a lion's strength in their veins—the women display a tiger's rage. No words now, but acts—no economy but that in wrath—no diplomacy but "The logic of the pike—the pathos of a blow."

General Sheridan saw the battle of Sedan. A correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs: "Gen Sheridan, by whose side I was standing, told me that he did not ever remember hearing such well-sustained firing of small arms as made itself heard above the roar of the batteries at our feet." Gen Sheridan never before saw a battle where breech loaders were exclusively used.

The following is a dispatch from the King of Prussia, dated Varennes, Sept 4th: "What a thrilling moment that of my meeting with Napoleon. He was cast down, but dignified in his bearing and resigned. I gave Wilhelmshohe as the place where he will reside. Our meeting took place in a little fort upon the western glacis. From there I rode through the ranks of our army around Sedan. The reception on the part of the troops thou mayest imagine, it was indescribable. May God aid us further."

The New York Tribune of the 5th inst said: The desperate struggle is now over. Practically the Germans are masters of all France. Paris a Capital without a government or an army is wild with a thousand contending voices. They may attempt an impracticable defense of Strasbourg, and at other points may make obstinate delay before they surrender but the war is over. The French officer who seeks to prolong it leads his men not forth to glorious battle but to wanton butchery. France has lost her leadership in Europe and Prussia has gained it. We hope to see her as magnanimous in triumph as she has been irresistible in conflict.

SANDWICH ISLANDS

There is a cry at the Sandwich Islands that no native labor is to be had and so the planters send for coolies. The natives won't work.

The natives still perform their senseless mummeries over the sick who, of course nearly always die. There is still a missionary band at the islands.

The United States ship of war Jamestown has arrived at Honolulu from Micronesia. Captain Truxton broke up a nest of pirates at Ascension Island, and gave the chiefs to understand that any future outrage by them would be severely punished.

From a Honolulu paper: A severe shock of earthquake was felt in this city and all over this island at thirteen minutes past 4 o clock Sunday morning August 7th. It woke up many from a sound sleep, others however were not disturbed. On Molokai it was more severe and shook crockery from shelves rattled doors and windows. At Waimea on Hawaii it was the heaviest shock felt since April 1868. Mauna Loa is evidently getting ready for an eruption.

A Honolulu paper of the 6th August says: In these islands the postal rates are quite reasonable and it must be acknowledged that our post office system is carried on with a liberal expenditure of the public money over and above the receipts. During the two years ending March 30th 1870, the receipts of the department are reported as $11 00 and the expenditures during the same period were $19 432. It is estimated that the receipts during the ensuing two years will amount to $9 000, and the expenditures called for are $22 116.

FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

SALEM, Sept 11 1870.

If you are looking for any "reliable" news in regard to political or legislative matters you will suffer disappointment. Just at present there is no master at hand out of which to manufacture that particular kind of intelligence. I can send you everybody's speculations—and one man's is about as good as another's—and more than a thousand things that everybody don't know but remarkably little of anything which anybody does know, for if ever there was a time when chaos reigned in political circles that time is now. The only two definite facts known are that the Democracy are numerically in the ascendant and that the Republicans are quite the reverse but nobody knows how much. That depends upon the result in the contested election cases and in turn, that result will depend upon the Senatorial bias of the contesting applicants. The Kelly men have force enough to carry every thing if they can get all the Democratic noses upon the caucus grindstone, but the surface indications are that as many as nine Democratic members have other views—some of them having views peculiarly their own—and that they will not be caught in any ordinary caucus trap. There are plenty of men here willing to bet their piles that Kelly will never be elected.

The organization of the two Houses will go off somewhat upon the Senatorial issue though the result will be no index to the solution of the Senatorial problem. There are many who believe that neither House will organize to morrow and there is really some reason to believe that the Senate will not organize for several days. I hear Mr Fay talked of as the most prominent anti Kelly candidate for President of the Senate. Gov. Whiteaker and Ben Hayden are the candidates for Speaker of the House. I predict that the ex Governor will get the mallet mostly on the Turveydrop issue of "deportment" which includes the matter of respectability of habiliments. Simpson, late of the Herald will likely be Secretary of the Senate and E S McComas, of Baker county, Chief Clerk of the House. That's the way things point now. As for other officers deponent saith not further than that it is a special wonder where all the aspirants thereto came from and how they all got here and where they all find places to "hang up." The loaves and fishes that served as such a bounteous lunch for the multitude down on that scriptural sea shore would cut a sorry figure here among the crowd of official crumb hunters. Legions and legions of them, and every individual poor devil of them boring, boring and sure that he's got 'em! It's rare sport for us outsiders who don't care who wins nor who gets run over for not minding the whistle.

Speaking of the whistle reminds me to break off from these matters, about which one can only speculate, and to speak of the railroad which is really a "fixed fact." [I don't claim this phrase as original.] The end of the track is now within about eight miles of Salem. The road bed is ready for the ties and rails, all the way. With the exception of the last few miles laid last week the road is quite smooth and safe for rapid traveling. As soon as ballasted the road from Aurora up, will be one of the prettiest pieces of track on the coast or elsewhere—straight and almost as level as a floor. The track leaves Waconda about half a mile on the east, crosses La Bish half a mile west of the old stage road, runs near the Fair Ground enclosure and enters Salem above the Parrish bridge of Mill creek. The depot is over half a mile from the steamboat landing. Since the trains began to run in connection with the stages the travel by land has been from three to five times what it was before. Two or three coaches each trip are now required to convey passengers between Salem and the terminus. The effect upon Salem is beginning to be what it was upon East Portland last year. Real estate is going up and men begin to count their gains.

Salem has made very notable advances in growth within the past year. Several large bricks have been erected for business purposes, and the visitor can see that many a niche has been filled with a handsome and costly residence. That part of the town lying south of the bridge has become quite a village, while the eastern and northern suburbs are rapidly pushing their way out countryward. It is surely something to say of a town situated in a purely agricultural district, that it has trebled or quadrupled its business in five years. This can certainly be said of Salem. The new Chemeketa Hotel is a credit to not only the town but the State. Two stories of the building will probably be ready for occupancy by the opening of the State Fair. Reed's Opera House is doing a rushing business. It is the chief headquarters of the politico-legislative crowd. Immense as the building is—and I believe it is full from bottom to top—it furnishes accommodations for only a small part of the crowd here who are quartered among private boarding houses all over the city.

Ben Holladay's telegraph has been completed to Salem with an office in Sam E May's house which Mr Holladay is said to occupy as his head quarters.

I am sure Portland must be lonely about these days judging from the number of Portland people I meet here.

The Legislature will occupy the same rooms as heretofore. The Supreme Court room and State Library are in Reed's Opera House.

It is said that certain Senatorial candidates who probably doubt the genuineness of their own Democracy have signed for circulation among the bed rockers an affidavit or something of that sort to the effect that they wont accept an election brought about by Republican votes. I can't vouch however for the statement.

T Patterson & Co have fitted up in Bill Watkind's block a job office for doing the State printing.

McPherson is here having the Governor's message and all the reports of State officers printed in advance as has been the usual custom.

No day is yet spoken of as the probable inauguration day. There is too much uncertainty about the organization of the two houses.

Mosher is here to contest Senator Herman's seat. There will be contests also from Yamhill, Clackamas and Benton counties. By the time these are disposed of the Democratic majority will doubtless be increased by not less than eight or nine.

Another Phase of National Unity

[illegible] ... It promotes [illegible] ... trains through passenger tickets and freight [illegible] ... their track [illegible] ... at little prohibition of State which will [illegible] the traveler to the interests of [illegible] ant stations is wiped away and instead of [illegible] al smallness they become national arteries for the common benefit of a whole continent.

If bad results grow out of these combinations Congress has an undoubted right to take charge of the subject and to legislate so as to meet every just cause of complaint. It is a power not yet acted upon because no great occasion has required it, but it is manifest that the time is near when all great routes of land travel must be put upon a common ground and governed by general laws equally applicable in all the States. This will be done whenever the people by some united expression of their will shall require it, and their ultimate protection from imposition and extortion lies in this reserved right of the General Government. But the principle of railroad consolidation is in accordance with the demand of the times, and is a phase of that remarkable tendency toward national unity which is producing so great an effect on the political, social and commercial structure of every great nation.

The Situation in France

European dispatches are so conflicting that no definite idea of the existing state of affairs can be formed. One thing, however, is evident,—there is delay in the German advance on Paris, and it is caused by propositions from other Powers for an armistice. Dispatches assert that the King of Prussia will not treat with the new Government of France, but this may be without foundation. The interposition of other powers will almost certainly secure peace. By reason of their victory the Germans are entitled to advantages in the final settlement, and without doubt will claim them. But other Powers will not allow the demands of Germany to be excessive. She can, however, obtain an advantageous peace, and probably without firing another shot. Why, therefore, should the German commanders waste the lives of their soldiers by continuing their assaults on strong places which they cannot take? They have not yet taken a fortified place in France, though they have destroyed all the field armies they have met.

Balance of power is by no means an obsolete idea in Europe. The peace will therefore be made on such terms as will suit the purposes of Powers that have not engaged in the struggle. Russia and Austria have little love for France, but they are not willing to see the North German Confederation and Prussia as the head of that Confederation grow dangerously strong. No doubt can now exist that it is Russia that is holding back the German armies. Peace may be expected soon and indications begin to point to the probability that there will be no acquisition by Germany of French territory.

A decision of the United States Supreme Court declares that the people of certain counties in Iowa shall not repudiate the railroad subsidies which they have voted. Gen. Grant on being appealed to declares that he will enforce the law in Iowa as in every other State. But now comes the New York World with the announcement that the President has "leaped forward to announce his intention to bayonet the people of Iowa," in case they do not obey the decision of the Court. This is one way of putting it. The Democracy of the United States seem to be pining for a country where rebellion is chronic, where repudiation may meet with no rebuke, and where the tyranny that requires obedience to law and established authority will be forever unknown.

There are growing indications of a possible participation of Russia in the foreign war. The Poles are represented as in earnest sympathy with France. On the other hand the Russian Baltic provinces are said to desire annexation to the North German Confederation. This last fact would afford a good reason for Russia to fear the increasing influence of Germany. The fear of the growing power of Prussia and the desire to prevent its augmentation as the controlling element in European politics, might incline her to side with France with a view of compelling an adjustment in which the status of the Continental Powers will not be [illegible] changed.

The New York Herald says the new election law was passed by Congress for the purpose of "conveying an impression that the Republican party has not been defeated in New York by public sentiment, but by fraudulent voting." Not quite correct. That impression already existed, and the returns of the census fully prove its correctness. Witness the recent convincing revelations by the Tribune and the entire Republican press of New York. Then, inasmuch as it is certain that the Republican party has been beaten in New York by fraudulent voting, the necessity of this new law [illegible].

Did Prussia, asks a leading Democratic paper of Imperial proclivities, did Prussia go to war to resent an insult to Germany, or to defend the unity of Germany, or to break up the unity of France? The general impression was that Prussia went to war to defend herself. France attacked her, and those who supposed she would offer no resistance but would submit to any terms through terror of French arms have found themselves woefully mistaken.

The seats of three Republican Senators and seven or eight Republican Representatives are contested [illegible]. We shall expect [illegible] end of the week. How does it happen, by the way, that the [illegible] from Multnomah are not to be expelled? Isn't this omission entirely inexcusable?

The owners of the two different lines of steamers on the route between Olympia, Seattle and Victoria are just at this time making it very warm for each other in the way of carrying passengers and freight at very low prices. For the past month the fare has been continuously diminishing, until one can now travel on either of these boats to any part of the Sound for fifty cents.

Organization of the Legislature

The Legislature has start[ed] [illegible] before the close [illegible] we shall [illegible] an exhibition of [illegible] Doctor Jacob D[illegible].

THE OREGON LEGISLATURE

Sixth Biennial Session

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.]

FIRST DISPATCH

Temporary Organization Effected in Both Houses

SALEM, Oregon, Sept 12.

The two houses of the Oregon Legislature met for preliminary organization at 10 A. M. to-day. In the House Dr Alexander of Linn was elected Speaker pro tem; A. S. McComas, of Union, Clerk pro tem; A. M. Snyder of Portland, Sergeant at Arms pro tem.

In the Senate, B. F. Burch, of Polk, was elected President pro tem; S. C. Simpson, of Salem, Clerk pro tem, and John Holton of Portland, Sergeant at Arms pro tem. Before adjournment it was announced that the Democratic members would immediately meet in caucus to nominate permanent officers.

SECOND DISPATCH

Both Houses Fully Organized

SALEM, Sept 12, Evening.

The Senate Committee on Credentials reported Mosher as contestant for Hurman's seat, Shahan as contestant for Witham's seat, and Newby as contestant for Watts' seat—the sitting members to retain their seats till the contests be decided.

Both houses are fully organized. The Senate officers are: Jas D Fay, President; S. C. Simpson, Chief Clerk; O. M. Packard (Wasco), Assistant; John Holton (Portland), Sergeant at Arms; Jas Moore (Polk), Doorkeeper.

A few of the usual resolutions were adopted to inform the House of organization, for stationery, to invite clergy to open sessions with prayer, etc., and the Senate adjourned.

The Committee on Credentials in regard to contested seats reported merely the fact that there would be contests in Clackamas, Yamhill and Benton.

The general impression is that the organization indicates a yielding of the opposition to Kelly, but this view is only speculative.

Immediately upon the organization of the two houses, Secretary May surrendered his office to Mr. Chadwick. Mr. Cooke transferred the office of Treasurer this afternoon to Mr. Fleischner.

OREGON

Mr. Bates is at Salem and will immediately fit up his New Oro Fino Theater, hoping to be ready to commence the season on Saturday night.

The Chinaphobist of the Eugene Guard comes with this eminently wise and lawyer-like proposition: "If no better remedy can be had, let the Legislature pass an act, taxing each person employing Chinamen within the limits of the State of Oregon, say twenty dollars per month for each Chinaman each month or part of month they employ such China labor."

From the Eugene Journal: "We are informed that the County Commissioners have levied a tax this week of 18 mills—one dollar and eighty cents on each hundred dollars. From 11 mills under Republican rule it has gone up to 18 mills under the glorious reign of Democracy, and will continue to increase till the people dispense with their services, which they will do at the next election. This is the way the Democracy always 'reduces taxation.'"

A fatal accident, says the Statesman, occurred Saturday on the railroad grade a short distance below Jefferson. It seems that the men were working in a deep cut, when the bank caved on them. One of the men, whose name we did not learn, was caught by the loose dirt and buried not more than two feet deep. The overseer told our informant that he distinctly heard the unfortunate man's cries two or three times, but although every exertion was made to extricate him, before this could be done he was dead, either from suffocation or from internal injuries.

THE TERRITORIES

The Export Book of the Puget Mill Company shows [illegible] feet of sawn lumber to have been shipped from Port Gamble during the year 1869, exclusive of laths, shingles, pickets, etc., etc.

The city officials concerned in the breaking up of Englebrecht's & Co's liquor establishment, at Salt Lake, have again been arrested on civil suit instituted by that firm, and held in bonds for the sum of a little over $70,000.

In the absence of a fire engine or other means for protection against fires, the town authorities of Seattle have adopted an ordinance requiring each citizen to keep one or more barrels of water about his premises ready for use in an emergency. Consequently barrels are in demand at the Terminus just now.

From the Olympia Tribune: A letter signed "J. L. B." from Whidby Island relates a case of infanticide that occurred there a few days ago, the perpetrator of the crime being a half breed late from Olympia. The writer says this is the third case of the kind that has occurred within eighteen months on that Island, and wants to know if there is no law to punish such crimes.

Chinese House Servants for New York

From the Journal of Commerce, Aug [illegible]

The movement to import Chinese house servants for employment in this city received a set back when it became known that they would ask $18 to $20 a month gold, with board and lodging. One of our citizens much interested in the undertaking, learns upon further correspondence with Koopmanschap & Co. that they will supply new hands, speaking very little English, at $10 to $12 gold per month. These servants have had no experience in American cookery and housework, but they are the raw material out of which the best Chinese domestics in San Francisco are made, and after a little practice will be equally good. This puts a new face on the matter, and several householders propose to co-operate in the importation of these new hands on Koopmanschap & Co.'s terms. It will be necessary to pay the transportation expenses to New York, from $80 to $100 per man, according to the number sent, payable to Koopmanschap & Co. upon their delivery here.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN, DATES TO SEPT 14

Contradictory Reports

LONDON, Sept [illegible].—Telegrams from the seat of war to-day are a perfect chaos of wild and contradictory statements. The telegraph [illegible] Paris has begun to refuse private dispatches.

[illegible] France has been cured of [illegible].

Halt of the Prussian Army—An Armistice Probable

NEW YORK, Sept 12.—Paris advices say the French successes at Toul and Montmedy, together with the reported halt of the Prussian advance [illegible].

[illegible] has halted twenty-five miles from Paris to consider the Russian and Austrian propositions for an armistice.

Heroic Defence of Toul and Montmedy

PARIS, Sept 12.—The Ministry has just made public the following important intelligence: The Prussians attacked Toul on Saturday at six o'clock in the morning, and persisted until 4 in the evening. They were, however, constantly repulsed, and many of their batteries were dismounted.

More than 10,000 Prussians were [illegible] at Montmedy on Thursday. The garrison splendidly repulsed the Prussian attack.

The Position of the Prussians

The Prussians have occupied Meaux. They have arrived in force at Crespy and are approaching [illegible].

Paris is cheered this morning by the rumor of an armistice, also that the United States has interfered and sent three decided dispatches to Berlin. It is said that the Prussian advance has been stopped in consequence.

[illegible] Sept 11.—The latest intelligence from Prussian headquarters is that in reply to proposals made through the Austrian Legation King William declares that he will listen to no proposal except from the Imperial Government of France.

Condition of Paris—Attitude of Foreign Powers

LONDON, Sept 12.—The [illegible] Paris special correspondent telegraphs as follows: The city is beginning to be isolated. We have no mail to-day from London and no dispatches have come through by telegraph except for the newspapers. The Government exercises supervision at the office at the Place de la Bourse, from which all dispatches are allowed to be sent. The aspect of the city is perfectly tranquil. No fears of mob violence are entertained by anyone. I have never seen order more perfect than since the proclamation of the Republic. Henri Rochefort, who was so much feared, is in office and manifests a most conservative temper. He is of great use in controlling the extreme radicals.

The Legations of Austria and Prussia are busy at work in the interest of peace, and it is believed they would have already secured an armistice had not the Government of England blocked the way by its hesitating and half hostile attitude. The English Government is believed to have a secret understanding with the King of Prussia, contrary to the wishes of Count Bismarck, in order to crush if possible the Republic. On high authority Bismarck desires neither Alsace nor Lorraine, and is anxious to secure peace as early as possible, but King William is bitterly opposed to any negotiations with the Republic, and insists on advancing on Paris to crush the revolution before the fever can extend to Germany.

Paris Completely Invested by the Prussians

A special to the Evening Telegram, dated London, Sept 13th, says the siege of Paris is now to be fairly commenced. The Prussian forces in detachments form a semi-circle around Paris at a distance of about 2 miles. In this position the army has halted at the request of the Russian Minister, that King William and Count Bismarck may consider the proposition for an armistice emanating from Russia and Austria. Paris remains tranquil. The roads leading to the city are all closed and no more provisions are now going in. What the city now contains must prove sufficient for the emergency. Garibaldi is expected to arrive there.

Affairs in Italy and Rome

PARIS, September 12.—Senor Mordinean has arrived in Paris. He brings assurance that the Italian Government has determined to forestall all revolutionary movements in Italy and Rome by official occupation of Roman territory without the slightest intention of harming the Pope. The Italian army now holds all roads north and south leading into Roman territory, and an Italian squadron is at Civita Vecchia. The Prussian Government has notified the Italian Government that it has no intention of interfering in any way with the question of Rome or the occupation of the city. The popular vote will be taken throughout the Papal States upon the annexation of the papal territory to Italy.

The Pope to be Stripped of his Power.

LONDON, Sept 12.—Advices from Florence are to the effect that the Italian troops enter the Roman territory to-day. The Italians will immediately strip the Pope of his power. The local authority of Italian territory remains undisturbed by the Italians.

Revolutionary Movements in Papal Territory

[illegible], Sept 11.—A dispatch states that in the Province of Viterbo has originated a movement of a formidable character. Shouts of long live the King of Italy are heard on all sides. The male portion of the inhabitants are armed and formed into guerrilla bands for the purpose of harrassing the Papal Zouaves.

ORVIETO, Sept 12.—The gens d'armes have disarmed the insurrectionists and the King of Italy has guaranteed the maintenance of order. Advices from Florence Sept 11th states that the entire country is deeply agitated. Italian flags are everywhere displayed.

Spanish Sympathy for France

MADRID, Sept 12.—Demonstrations of sympathy with the French Republic continue in the northern provinces.

The Republicans in Paris having engaged an address demanding the convening of the Cortes.

Further French Advices

PARIS, Sept 12.—The Prussians were at Melun last night.

Reports of an armistice increase in consistency. The Diplomatic Corps defers its departure from the city.

French Seaports to be Fortified

MARSEILLES, Sept 12.—The Government hearing that two cruisers had passed through the Straits of Gibraltar, has ordered preparations to be made for repelling an attack. 20,000 volunteers left here yesterday for Paris.

LONDON, Sept 11.—Orders are issued by the Government at Paris for the fortifying of Havre, Marseilles, Dunkirk and other ports, and [illegible] of large French war ships are [illegible] to the utmost and every vessel is made ready to weigh anchor at a moment's notice.

The Great Fire at Chicago

LATER ACCOUNTS—FURTHER PARTICULARS

CHICAGO, Sept [illegible].—The losses by the fire last night are now figured to aggregate $2,[illegible],000. This however is only an estimate, and others place the amount at over $3,000,000. Whatever the loss, the insurance probably covers two-thirds of it. The number of lives lost is still unknown, but there seems a sad certainty that at least 10 to 15 men and boys perished in the flames. One of the employees in Farwell & Co's store, who was coming down stairs with a package of valuable laces on his shoulder, was struck by bricks from the falling wall. He reports that from 10 to 15 men and boys were behind him and unable to escape. The excitement was so great, however, that many exaggerated statements in regard to the loss of life were made, and this must be taken as rather doubtful. The morning papers give a list of [illegible] persons [illegible] and six persons missing, who were known to have been engaged in removing goods from the burning building. Never perhaps in the history of the city of Chicago has there been so much public excitement over a fire. The block burned was in point of architectural beauty perhaps the first in the city, and its total destruction is the cause of individual regret. As stated last night, the fire is supposed to have originated in spontaneous combustion of oiled rags in the upper story [illegible]. The [illegible] roof forming the sixth story of the building is held responsible for the extraordinarily rapid spread of the fire, which throughout baffled every effort of the fire department. The intense heat damaged the stores and stocks of goods on the opposite side of Wabash Avenue to the extent of $[illegible],000. The anxiety of the people to learn a detailed account of the fire, coupled with the eagerness for further war news, caused an unprecedented run on the newspaper offices, and by [illegible] A. M. not a copy of the Times or Tribune could be had in the streets, at the news depots or at the offices of the papers themselves. No extra editions, however, were issued.

LATER.—Up to this hour, [illegible] A. M., no bodies have been recovered from the ruins. A painful rumor is afloat that Charles, a young son of Chas. B. Farwell, was seen to enter his father's store and never was seen again. John V. Farwell, the senior member of this firm, is absent on the plains attending to his duties as Indian Commissioner.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

Yesterday morning as the locomotive Portland, the handsome, model express, mail and baggage car, and one platform car, were thrown from the trestle work which stretches across the bottom, along the river front at East Portland, and in a moment lay at the base, some 20 feet be low, almost a total wreck. The accident was seen from the west side by a few people, and in stantly the alarm passed from one to another that a fearful accident had occurred, many supposing that the train was a regularly made up passenger train and that some persons, at least, must have been killed. The rush to the ferryboat at Stark street, was equal to a perfect stampede, and hun- dreds visited the scene. Our reporter was early on the grounds, and the first relief was upon ascer taining that nobody had been killed and that but three persons were injured; they not danger ously. The train was the first that had ever passed over upon this trestle work, and it was more experimental than anything else. The trestle-work is made upon piles, driven into the earth. The cause of the disaster was the settling of the piling on the upper side. In all the dis tance from the main land across, perhaps 1,000 feet, the piles settled more or less; but they set- tled evenly on both sides, owing perhaps to the fact that braces had been placed across from top to bottom, under the bridge, and fastened firmly to the piles. At the place where the accident oc- curred, only a few rods from the base line county road bridge, there were no braces, and the piles on the eastern side sunk from three to seven feet, as the locomotive —weighing over thirty tons— came over them. This threw the train off, and in falling the track was torn completely from the trestle for a distance of 600 feet south. The en- gine was buried fully one third out of sight in the sand, and her wood work is badly injured, but it is thought the iron-work is not hurt greatly. The baggage car, said to be the finest car of the kind on the Pacific coast, is almost a wreck, so far as the house is concerned, but, strange to say, a fine glass lamp suspended from the transom was not even cracked. One platform car went partly over, and is injured somewhat, another platform car loaded with lumber remained on the track. The train was backing over the road, and the car which remained on the track was the lead one in the train. Four persons were on the train. Mr. E. P. Hodtott, engineer, deserves much credit for his efforts in the critical moment. He stuck to his engine, and tried to reverse her, but failing in that, at once applied himself to putting out the fire to prevent damage from it to the boiler, which was speedily emptied of both water and steam. His right ankle was sprained, but he will be about in a few days, he thinks. The fireman, Mr. S. H. Hudson, was slightly injured, but not danger ously it is thought. Mr. R. Q. Thomas was in- jured more seriously than the others, but no fears of his recovery are entertained. The brakesman escaped unhurt, by leaping from the car. Mr. Ferguson was promptly on hand and with a force of men was cleaning away the wreck until dark last night. In a day or two at least the locomotive and cars will be in the shops, undergoing repairs, and twenty days and $5,000 will repair all dam- ages.

THE NINTH CENSUS.

U. S. Marshal Young furnishes us the following facts from Schedule No. 1, 9th Census, of Jackson and Josephine counties:

HELD TO ANSWER.—The man Geo. Luber, ar raigned to answer for stabbing Fred Williams, appeared before his Hon. Judge Anderson yes- terday morning, and after hearing the testimony was committed to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Williams is not near so badly hurt as was reported. He was in attendance at the court in person, and there is no doubt about his final recovery.

KILLED.—The remains of Mr. Samuel Ternet were brought to the city yesterday on the noon train, from Salem, for interment here. Mr. Ter- not was an employee on the Oregon and Califor nia Railroad, and was killed by a caving bank, while working on the grade beyond Salem, on Saturday last. His brother resides in this city. We could not ascertain whether he leaves a family or not.

A FRIGHTENED TEAM.—Yesterday as Mr. Zim- merman was delivering milk at Alisky & He gele's on First street, his team became fright- ened at the workmen on the Odd Fellows' Tem- ple, and started to leave on double quick, but their notions were thwarted by the timely inter ference of the scissors-grinder, who happened to be near by.

BOY LOST.—On Sunday last a small child, son of Mr. M. Worthemier, living on Washington street, wandered away from home, and caused very much anxious searching before he was found. When found in the evening, he was in Couch's Addition, below the gas works, none the worse for his jaunt, however.

BOARD OF TRADE.—A meeting of the Port land Board of Trade will be held this evening at the Common Council Chamber. We understand a report of the case recently in litigation before the Board, between J. Loewenburg and the Ore gon Steam Navigation Company will be read.

CLOSING BUSINESS.—We regret to inform the public that Hildburgh Bros. & Co., 50 Front street, have concluded to close business—but such is the case. They will sell off their large stock at greatly reduced prices. See their advertise ment.

SENT UP.—Out of eight cases before Recorder Anderson yesterday morning for drunken and disorderly conduct, four were disposed of by sen- tence of five days each in the city jail, in default the change convenient to lift their fines and costs.

TILLAMOOK TRAIL.—Capt. Quick informs us that the trail to Tillamook from Stanley's mill in Moore's Valley, is now opened, and in good or der for traveling. The wagon road will be com- pleted for travel by another season.

THEATRE.—Recollect that this evening Miss Lizzie Ingles takes a benefit at Oro Fino Theater. A most excellent bill, good music, and a deserv- ing beneficiary, all commend themselves to the kind wishes of the public.

FRESH TROUT.—If you want nice fresh trout for breakfast, Quinn, at the Union Fish Market, Washington street, can furnish you. He is re- ceiving them from Cowlitz and Lewis rivers daily by the steamers.

NEW GOODS.—John O'Neil & Co., whose tasty store is on First street, next door to Corbett's fine building, have received a new stock of goods, which will well repay an inspection. See adver- tisement.

HEAVY PULLEYS.—A truck load of heavy pulleys, or band wheels, for Ben. Holladay & Co.'s new mill at Milwaukie, were shipped last evening.

VARIETIES.

"It wasn't very late, only a quarter of twelve." "How dare you sit there and tell me that lie? I was awake when you came in, and looked at my watch, and it was three o'clock." "Well, isn't three a quarter of twelve?"

A man who had filed a petition for divorce, was informed by his counsel that his wife had filed a "cross petition," as lawyers call it. "A cross petition!" exclaimed the husband, "that's just like her. She never did a good natured thing in her life."

At a recent Sunday school concert, a speak- er asked the little boys which they would pre- fer to do, steal a dollar, or have a dollar stolen from them. Immediately a hand was raised, and a little urchin candidly answered, "Please, sir, I'd rather steal a dollar."

A young lady of Indiana shot a saloon- keeper the other day because he persisted in selling whisky to her lover; and then, catch- ing the lover sober, married him. Where- upon the wounded saloon keeper said he con- sidered himself the luckier man of the two.

A peddler walked into a New York broker's office and offered pens for sale. "You come to steal a coat, not to sell pens," said the broker, as he thrust him out. The following Saturday the peddler appeared in all the glo- ries of his Sabbath clothes. "Now, sir," he asked, with an air of triumph, "do I look as though I came to steal a coat?" "No," re- plied the broker, "you look as though you had stolen it." The peddler didn't wait.

THE STORY OF A SET OF DIAMONDS.—The story, as told by a correspondent of the Cin- cinnati Chronicle, is as follows:

Some years ago a young and beautiful girl married a man who had been twice married before, and who gave her for a wedding pres- ent a costly set of diamonds, the value of which was blazoned in the papers. These diamonds the husband, "for security," kept, much to the chagrin of the young wife, lock- ed in a safe, when not on her person. Lately she wore the jewels to a hop, at Saratoga, and was much annoyed by the regards of a man who followed her about all the evening, seem- ingly in admiration of her gems. On return- ing home, she found this same man in her parlor with her husband waiting her coming, and was requested by the latter to hand him her diamonds. She demurred, when she was informed by her lord that he had purchased the diamonds—a mere stock transaction—be- cause he considered them a safe investment, of which he permitted her to have the benefit. He had speculated and lost, and this gentle- man had gained them, and they must change hands. They did change hands, and the re- ceiver informed Madame that he considered his money safe, as the value of diamonds were on the increase, so he should keep them by him for a time, and when she wished to appear in them she could do so "for a con- sideration," provided he accompanied her to keep an eye on his property.

The Summer is past and Autumn is here,
The finest season throughout the whole year,
But the days grow cool, and all must prepare
For warmer Clothing in Winter to wear.
Well, KOHN & FISHEL, of Clothing renown,
Have the best supply ever brought to town.
They have all sorts of coats and pants that will match,
That will last a whole year and not need a patch.
There are socks, vests and shirts and a thousand things more,
Which they offer you cheaper than ever before.
You all need the clothes and they need the tin,
Then get a new suit and let Winter go in.

Sound Logic for the Sick.

The invalid has often good reasons to exclaim, "save me from my friends." As a general thing, each of them will have a different medicine to propose, and if he fol- lows all their prescriptions in turn, their well-meant ad- vice may be the death of him. The only sensible course in any case of sickness is to resort promptly to a specific which has stood the test of a long and widely extended public experience, and obtained on solid and sufficient grounds the reputation of a Standard Remedy. This rank among the restoratives of our day belongs of right, and beyond all dispute, to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Let those who are taking it answer for themselves as to its tonic properties. Can any dyspeptic who has ever used it, question its superiority as a stomachic over every other medicine? Can any person of bilious habit, who has ever taken it for liver complaint, doubt its effi- ciency? It is believed among the tens of thousands who are now using, or have heretofore used it as an altera- tive and corrective, not one can be found who would ex- change it for any other preparation in the known world. For intermittent fevers, nervous debility, constipation, sick stomach and all complaints arising from indigestion or impoverishment of the blood, it is the only article which can be conscientiously guaranteed, and no one who is thoroughly acquainted with its virtues will allow interested dealers in worthless slops, on which they make a larger profit, to furnish them in the place of the great vegetable restorative.

A Morning Visit.—Mrs. Graham—Kate, where is your mother this morning? Kate—She's in the kitchen making mince pies. Mrs G.—Why, Kate, you surprise me! Mrs. Crocker told me only a few days ago that she was quite sick, and not able to be about. Kate—Oh, yes, she has been quite sick, but the day after Mrs C. was here, ma sent for a bottle of PLANTATION BITTERS, and has taken it three times a day since. It worked like a charm, and ma says she is better and stronger than she has been for years. She thinks it the best medicine in the world, and wants me to take some, but it is so awful bitter I can't like it. I have taken it several times, but it gives me such an appetite that I tell ma her mince pies will not last long. Mrs. G.—Good morning, Kate. Give my love to your mother, and tell her she is safe so long as she has PLANTATION BITTERS in the house.

Louis and I.

"How I fly, Papa! how funny!
How the little balls tumble about;
Hurrah! there's a fellow's head off—
How the pretty red blood spurts out—

"And look, what a jolly bonfire
Wants nothing but colored light;
Oh, Papa! burn a lot of cities,
And burn the next one at night."

"Yes, child, 'tis operatic,
But don't forget in your glee,
For your sake this play is playing,—
That you may be worthy of me.

"They baptized you in Jordan water,—
Baptized as a Christian, I mean;
But you come of the race of Cæsar,
And thus have their baptisms been.

"Baptized in true Cæsar fashion,
[illegible]—ber through all your years
That your font was a burning city,
And your water it's widow's tears."
—London Spectator.

Why Americans Sympathize with Germany.

[From the N. Y. Times, Aug. 28.]

The German Patriotic Aid Societies appeal quite as strongly to the judgment as to the feeling of the American People in their statement of the considerations which underlie the present conflict. Some of these considerations events had already revealed. The earlier misconceptions, which regarded the contest as one between King William, who believes himself a ruler by divine right, and Louis Napoleon, who had made himself a ruler by fraud, were soon dispelled. The cause of Prussia had been merged in the larger and juster cause of a United Germany; the dynastic ambition of Napoleon became subordinate to the ill-regulated aggressiveness of a United France. Instead of a struggle between Emperor and King, we were called upon to witness the battle of two nationalities, the representatives, respectively, of opposite and irreconcilable ideas, and embodying types of diverse national character. As between William or Bismarck and Napoleon, Americans might well have hesitated to bestow their sympathy. But as a people devoted to industry, thrifty and intelligent, earnest and wise in their aspirations after liberty, seeking no further territorial aggrandizement, but simply the quiet consolidation of minor States which the selfishness of petty sovereigns had kept divided—and a people destitute of practical ideas of freedom, with no national purpose but the glory of France, incapable of the self-control which is at the root of popular government, and dazzled by the tinsel of an Empire resting upon treachery and perpetrated by fraud—it was impossible long to pause. The great great body of the American people comprehended the situation at a glance, and gave their sympathy to the German cause.

To justify the preference, it is not necessary to applaud the Government of Prussia, or the steps by which it has reached its present position. These are minor points in the case. The essential points relate to the ultimate purpose and the obvious tendency of the growth which has converted Prussia into a mighty German Power. There are incidents in her history which it is impossible to extenuate; there is a degree of absolutism in some of her old pretensions for which no excuse can be found. What then? The instinctive yearning for constitutional freedom which animates the German people finally proved too strong for King William, and a determination to exact respect for the guarantee of freedom begins to restrain even Bismarck. Both have been instruments in the accomplishment of a work which they will hereafter only partially control. Not more surely will German unity gradually extinguish the paltry Grand Dukes and mimic sovereigns who alone have been interested in perpetuating division, than will the harsh authority of Bismarck, and the antiquated ideas of his King, disappear before the expanding power of the German people. And the purpose which has sustained their patient pursuit after union affords the best possible pledge against the abuse of the influence which must follow victory over France. They want unity for the sake of Germany—not to make Germany a scourge to other nations. The power which unity implies they propose to exercise only as a means of securing to themselves the undisturbed enjoyment of peace, and the cultivation of those arts of peace which supplement freedom with prosperity, and impart permanence to both. Both are presupposed in the organization of their military system, which depends for its efficiency upon harmonious relations between the people and the Government.

On the other hand, the French people have been educated to regard France as an arbiter among the nations. The first Napoleon deposed and installed Kings at his pleasure and the third Napoleon has asserted his right to decide the fate of thrones in a similar manner. [illegible] military and naval preparations could not go on among such a people, under such a ruler, without arousing the spirit of neighboring peoples. There could be no general disarmament while France remained a constant menace. The fact that Prussia pushed forward her preparations proves nothing against the peaceful disposition of the German people. The hopes of France rested upon the prevention of German unity, and the resistance of united Germany became sooner or later inevitable. Greater energy has converted the German Army into the invading force—but that is a circumstance which does not alter the moral relations of the belligerents.

If [illegible] American sympathy preponderates on the side of Germany, it is from no lack of appreciation of French valor, and from no disposition to analyze the merits of the struggle. There are, indeed, reasons why, apart from all else, the German cause should here be the popular cause. The value of our German citizens; their tried adhesion to the Union in its perils, their appreciation of its principles, and their vast contributions to its prosperity, are quite enough to explain any partiality that might exist. But judging of the contest by the results it involves, and by the motives and character of the peoples immediately concerned, the considerations which may be expected to sway American feeling on the side of Germany are obvious and conclusive.

Henry Ward Beecher as a Woman.

[Mrs. Stanton in the Revolution.]

This reminds me of a good story I have heard about Henry Ward Beecher. As he is now enjoying his annual infliction, the "hay fever," and takes little note how the world goes round, this is a good time to tell it, that we may have our laugh out before he reappears upon the stage of action. It seems that once on a visit to Mrs. Stowe, some great occasion calling for an extra curling and frizzing among the ladies of the household, Mr. Beecher was imbued with the spirit of decoration, and urged his nieces to curl and friz his hair also. This novel request so amused the young fry that all entered promptly into the fun with the greatest zeal. He was accordingly seated in a large arm-chair, in the center of the room, where for the space of one hour he remained as patient as a lamb, while with hot irons fairy fingers curled and frizzled those venerable locks into most generous dimensions. With the addition of a becoming bonnet, skirt, mantilla and fan, he presented so lady-like an appearance that he was quite unwilling to return to the somber garb of manhood. Alternately reclining on the sofa, talking with true feminine affectation, promenading up and down the parlor with the Grecian bend, and surveying himself in the glass with great satisfaction, ever and anon he would exclaim, "I do wish Bruce or some of those Hartford people would come." Professor Stowe was so convulsed with the whole proceeding that it was feared he might share the fate of the poor man in Holme's "Height of the Ridiculous." However, as no one came in, Mr. Beecher at length proposed that they should go out and visit certain friends. So Mrs. Stowe ordered the carriage, and they went first to Mrs. Hooker's. She being much occupied declined seeing the stranger, but Mrs. Stowe insisted on her coming down, as the lady wished to talk with her on the woman question, thinking some of lecturing on the subject. On entering the parlor one glance of those mischievous eyes satisfied her as to the identity of the strange lady, and she exclaimed: "I know you! wolf in lamb's clothing!" Adieu.

A prudent man advised his drunken servant to put by his money for a rainy day. In a few weeks the master inquired how much of his wages he had saved. "Faith, none at all," said he, "it rained yesterday, and it all went."

Improvements on the Fair Grounds.

[From the Farmer.]

At the meeting of the Board of Managers of the Oregon State Agricultural Society, the Executive Committee then appointed were instructed to make such improvements on the grounds as, in their judgment, the wants of the Society and the public demanded. In some particulars these were specified, but the work was mostly left to the judgment of the Committee. We are glad to report that the improvements made are calculated, in every respect, to give satisfaction.

The pavilion has been enlarged by the addition of a wing 80x36 feet, with a hall for the Society, overhead, and all the pavilion ceiled and whitewashed on the inside. The front of it has been materially changed.

A new ticket office and entrance gate have been erected, which will add greatly to the appearance of the entrance to the enclosure, besides being far more convenient than the old one, which has been a disgrace for years.

Fifty-six new stables have been built, each furnished with room in the upper story for hay or sleeping purposes.

Twenty wells have been added to those heretofore on the grounds, which, it is believed will furnish sufficient water for all purposes—eleven of them having been sunk on the camping grounds outside the enclosure.

The improvements in further contemplation for the annual Fair of 1870, we cannot further enumerate, as the Committee only speak of what is nearly completed, but we feel assured that all who come will feel encouraged in the belief that ere long the Oregon State Agricultural Society will have accommodations equal to those of any agricultural society in the Union.

SHERIFF SALE.—By virtue of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court, State of Oregon, County of Multnomah, to me directed, in favor of L. Buzard and against W. W. Chapman and M. F. Chapman, his wife, for the sum of four hundred and thirty ($430 00) dollars principal, and interest and costs. And by virtue of an execution and order of sale issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the county of Multnomah, to me directed, in favor of W. S. Ladd and against W. W. Chapman and Margaret F. Chapman, his wife for the sum of five thousand and fifty three 15-100 ($5,053 15-100) dollars in U. S. gold coin, principal and interest in like coin, and the further sum of five thousand ($5,000 00) dollars lawful money, principal and like interest and the further sum of three hundred and fifty ($350 00) dollars as Attorney's fees, and costs. I have this 1st day of Sept. A. D. 1870 levied upon the following described real estate to-wit: A tract of land in the city of Portland, in Multnomah county, State of Oregon, being all that part of the donation claim of said Margaret F. Chapman upon which said W. W. Chapman and Margaret F. Chapman reside, bounded on the east by a forty acre tract of land conveyed to Lloyd Brook and others, on the north by lands conveyed by said W. W. and Margaret F. Chapman to Jacob Kamm; on the west by the western boundary of said donation claim and on the south by the Thomas Carter donation claim and an extension of Jefferson street in said city, containing ten acres, together with the buildings and improvements thereon.

Therefore, by virtue of said execution and said execution and order of sale, I will sell on the first day of October, 1870, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., in front of the Court House door in said county, all the right, title and interest of the said W. W. Chapman and Margaret F. Chapman, his wife, in and to the said premises, at public auction, to the highest bidder therefor, to satisfy said execution and said execution and order of sale.

D. HILLS, Sheriff
sep2dlaw4w Of Multnomah County, Oregon.

NOTICE.—In the matter of the petition of Charles Badem for a change of name to Charles Bartels.—Now on this day comes the petitioner, Charles Badem, in person and by his Attorneys, Whalley & Fechheimer, and move the Court for an order and decree changing the name of said petitioner from Charles Badem to Charles Bartels in accordance with the prayer of petitioner filed herein. And it appearing to the Court that due publication of said application has been given, and from the evidence submitted that the matters alleged in said petition are true. It is therefore ordered and decreed that the name of said petitioner, Charles Badem, be, and the same is hereby changed to Charles Bartels, and that public notice of said decree be given by publication in the DAILY OREGONIAN for ten successive days.

WM. C. RALSTON, Treasurer.

After paying the expenses of the Entertainment, and making the distribution of the Gifts, as above announced, the balance will be applied to extinguishing the present indebtedness of the Mercantile Library Association.

Holders of tickets to which gifts may be awarded will receive the same on presentation of such tickets or coupons to the Business Agents of the Board of Trustees at their office, No. 318 California street, San Francisco.

NOTICE.

HOLDERS OF TICKETS to the GIFT CONCERT in aid of the Mercantile Library Association, are hereby notified, that the Concert is postponed until

Monday, October 31st, 1870

Unexpected interferences have operated to make this delay necessary to accomplish the result of freeing the Library from debt, without recourse to other privileges granted by act of the Legislature, passed February 18, 1870.

This is positively the only postponement which will be made. The Concert will take place on the day above named, commencing at 7 o'clock, A. M., and to continue until all the gifts have been awarded.

The funds already in bank are considerably more than sufficient to insure the successful completion of the contract with the public.

The sale of tickets will positively close on Friday, the 28th day of October, 1870.

All tickets remaining unsold at that time will be withdrawn from sale and cancelled. They will be advertised by their numbers, on the 29th day of October, 1870, in one or more of the daily papers of this city. Any diminution thus made in the number of tickets to be drawn, will not affect the number or amount of gifts. They will be as heretofore advertised, to wit: 625 gifts amounting in all to $500,000 gold.

Ticket holders residing out of San Francisco will receive duly accredited lists of the awards of gifts, which will also be published in the leading San Francisco daily papers, on the 1st November, 1870.

Delivery of gifts will commence November 2d, 1870, at the office, No. 318 California Street, to all parties presenting tickets to which gifts have been awarded. All gifts awarded to non-residents will be held to their order and for their account.

RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

This association of whose organization we gave an account a few days since, is now ready to dispose of shares. As it is with one exception, (the Portland Homestead Association,) the pioneer organization of that kind in this city, it may be well enough to state what are its purposes, and the manner in which it is proposed to conduct its operations. The purposes of these Homestead Associations are not at all speculative in the ordinary sense of the word. They are dependent for the profits of their investment upon the natural advance in the value of their lands, consequent upon the co-operation of many individuals—shareholders—and the advance on values of all surrounding lands by reason of the expansion of population and demand for room outside of, but still near, the city. The Riverside Homestead Association has a fraction over one hundred and twenty acres of land situated just south of Brooklyn on the east side of the river, the nearest boundary line being about one mile from the ferry landing at East Portland. The tract lies in one strip along the Wallamet river, half a mile in length, and another strip along the Oregon and California railroad, half a mile in length, the two strips being connected near the middle by two rows of blocks (with a street between them,) the whole forming a figure not unlike the letter H. It is divided into 74 blocks, 200 feet square (with streets running at right angles) and 80 fractional lots, along the river front. The shares number 600, worth $60 per share. It will be seen that a share thus represents nearly a lot with an undivided interest in the 80 fractional lots. The 80 fractional shares are to be sold off at the proper time for the benefit of the Association, shareholders coming in for the proceeds in proportion to the number of shares held. When all shares are taken and the Association shall determine to do it, the choice of lots and blocks will be put up at auction to the highest bidder, the proceeds of such sales, after deducting the original price of shares or lots, to be divided equally among the whole number of shares. Thus, if a person wants a particular lot or block, and is willing to pay $100 or $800 premium (more or less as the case may be) he pays it and takes the lot or block as his individual property, the premium being divided among the whole number of shareholders. It will be seen, therefore, that everything is co-operative, and all interests mutual. No man can make a dollar out of it without also making a dollar for every other equal shareholder. There is no chance for loss, unless the property, by some chance, should depreciate far below the first actual cost. Whether this is liable to happen in the case of this particular tract of land must be judged by each for himself; but considering the steady and unprecedented advance on real estate in this city and neighborhood, and at East Portland and vicinity, for the last year or two, it seems hardly possible for values to go back.

In the Riverside Association all proper precautions seem to have been taken to guard against monopolies of shares. No person is allowed to buy more than the number of shares representing three blocks, or twenty-four lots, and votes determining the operations of the Association are restricted in the same manner. The buyers of shares may pay down $60 per share, which will exempt them from all assessments, or they may pay $15 quarterly with an assessment of $3 per share, payable with the first installment, being liable in this latter case to another (and only one other) assessment of $3 per share. Upon the payment of the shares in full, with the assessments as above, the holder is entitled to his certificate and his proportion of all the profits accrued from all sources. No officer of the Association receives any pay for services except the Secretary, who gets $75 per month; so it will be seen that the expenses must be light.

That part of the tract lying along the river is a high plateau, nearly level, about 60 to 90 feet above the water. There is no part of the front row of blocks but commands a splendid view of Portland and the river for miles up and down stream. That part of the tract lying along the railroad is, every foot of it, of the richest loam soil and adapted to gardening purposes. A beautiful little stream of pure water runs through almost the entire length of this wing of the tract, affording the means of irrigation, and power sufficient to supply pure water to every part of the whole tract. There is not a waste lot or fractional lot in the entire tract. Under all these advantages, it would seem impossible that there should be any chance of loss to shareholders. Within a year each shareholder, if he choose, may get a perfect title to as many lots as his shares may represent, or he may continue his interest, undivided, with the Association while the organization may exist.—Oregonian.

THE RIVERSIDE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.

We have been led to make these remarks from the fact that the subject of making homesteads on the outskirts of this city and East Portland, is being thoroughly discussed here among all classes, and one homestead—the "Riverside," just south of East Portland—has already been established. The site selected is a tract of land lying a little over a mile south of the ferry landing. It is shaped like the letter H, one arm of which, a half mile in length, borders on the river.

From this portion of the homestead, which is elevated but a trifle above the other prong of the H, but is still forty or fifty feet above the river, can be had an extensive view of Portland, East Portland, the shipping, and the Willamette river for several miles. The land is very fertile, and is partly covered with light fir timber. A tract of land just wide enough for two rows of blocks, with an avenue between them, connects the west prong of the H (which has already been described) with that of the east. This last tract of land is in a beautiful little valley which is now under a high state of cultivation. Through its whole length runs a trout brook the water of which is clear as crystal. With a hydraulic ram the Association proposes to have water conveyed through pipes to every portion of the homestead.—Daily Bulletin.
